At the core of every investment in innovative logistics lies the need to secure this investment and increase its ROI. Therefore, thorough consulting has to start with a methodical analysis of the company's individual situation.

By using modern tools for analysis, we identify logistical weak points, discover potential savings and simulate suitable process changes. Beginning with the global flow of material and narrowing down to the order picking process, we develop intelligent and efficient logistics solutions step by step and in close cooperation with you.

We enter the planning phase by evaluating the alternative approaches in terms of opportunities and risks and comparing various finance options.

We integrate technical and sales experts into this process to ensure that your solution is consistently future-proof. In this process, SSI SCHAEFER also offers wide-ranging expertise regarding energy efficiency.
