

SSI Schäfer im Web 2.0

Facebook, Twitter, YouTube und Blog

The world market leader in intralogistics always draws a lot of attention. This is an honour and also quite understandable, because we are working on exciting projects and innovative solutions every day. Thanks to our social media channels, it is now easier than ever to keep you posted on everything that is going on at SSI Schaefer.

We are offering you plenty of information as well as the opportunity to get in contact with us, quick and easy.

Don't miss any news about SSI Schaefer: our followers on Twitter and fans on Facebook will get the latest information and will be the first to know.

Take a look behind closed doors: our case studies on Facebook unveil what is otherwise inaccessible for the general public – the inside of distribution centres and warehouses.

Watch the most modern intralogistics solutions in action: videos on YouTube will show you how our products work and what you can do with them.

We are intralogistics: check the SSI Schaefer blog for interesting articles on those topics that move the industry.

But above all, social media is about participating! If you would like to comment on our activities, make suggestions, share ideas, or just get in touch, we will be listening!
